Hail Damage: What to Do After a Hailstorm.

During a hailstorm, windows may break and high winds can knock down trees and power lines. If the hail is big enough, it can cause damage to your roof, your car and maybe even crack your windshield. After a hailstorm, be careful and follow these tips:

1. Be Safe. Make personal safety your first priority.

- Watch out for broken glass, sharp objects, and exposed electrical wires.
- Wear proper shoes and gloves.
- Don't use rain-soaked electrical equipment.

2. Safeguard Your Home and Car.

- Prevent further damage. The longer your home is exposed to water, the more damage you will have.
- Clean up broken glass and remove debris.
- Board up broken windows or doors.
- Cover roof damage with tarps or plywood.
- Move wet items to a dry location.
- If possible, place damaged items in a secure area for inspection at a later time.
- Save all receipts from any temporary repairs.

3. Call Us: 314-849-2888.

We can explain the Claims Process, review your deductible, and recommend Roofing companies and Auto shops if you prefer to get an estimate first. Call us before talking to the roofer knocking on your door.

We are here for you when we're needed most - this is just one benefit of having an Agent!

Other Items to Remember:

- Hail normally has to be at least the size of a golf ball before it will break through your shingles and cause damage.
- If your roof is 5 years old or less, it can sustain from average-size hail.
- Marble-sized hail normally causes little to no damage.

Testimonials

Here are some comments from our clients. It's always nice to receive feedback - we appreciate all of our customers very much!

"The extraordinary service Taralyn has provided me extends back about 12 years. Every interaction I've had with her has been a pleasure. I am very thankful Taralyn is on your staff. It's one of the reasons I have continued using your services." ~Angie A.

"I have been with Bene'-Kelly for about 2 years now. I was referred by a friend to my agent Kevin. I currently have 2 properties and 3 vehicles with this company and LOVE the service I have received from Kevin and Amanda. They provide immediate attention to all my questions and have gone out of their way on several occasions to address concerns. I am so glad I followed my friends recommendation on this Company." ~ Liz F.
